MTV Pulse

MTV Pulse is a new pay channel produced by MTV Italy.

The channel first started transmission the 1st October 2007 to celebrate ten years of MTV Italy. MTV Pulse scheduling is mainly dedicated to video clips but it will be enriched with new productions. The channel will become a benchmark for teenagers.

The new channel uses Etere MAM to manage and deliver a huge amount of video clips. It works with an integrated environment with MTV digital libraries; the videos required are moved and delivered to the correct platform. The new channel uses Etere MAM to manage and deliver a huge amount of video assets. It shares the digital music libraries of MTV.

The archive is also composed of both disk and data tapes. The software has been integrated with an editing system.

Together with its software solution, Etere controls the following devices:

- Videosever Seachange BMC800 five nodes
- Logo Generator Evertz
- Pinnacle Dekocast
- PESA Router

The system is integrated with the MTV archive that includes 30 Tb of hard drive plus a LTO library SL500 for long term. Also the system has a web interface for remote control and low resolution browsing system.

Playlist upload-download is using the Etere F90 intelligent import-export system; this integrates the channel in all MTV worldwide environments.
